The Lake Arrowhead Community Services District Celebrates Water Agency Staff During California's Water Professionals Appreciation Week

As part of California's sixth annual Water Professionals Appreciation Week, the Lake Arrowhead Community Services District (LACSD) is proud to take a moment and highlight the essential role of water professionals and local public water agencies in providing water and wastewater services.

We appreciate the dedication of our highly trained operators, technicians and other specialists who have continued to make sure our community has safe and reliable water, wastewater and recycled water services amidst a drought and pandemic.

Be sure to check our Facebook and Twitter accounts for more information on our amazing staff, the essential role they play and how you might join us or consider a job in California's water industry.

There are so many careers in water that keep water flowing in the communities throughout California, including district managers, customer service representatives, treatment plant operators, accountants and engineers to name a few. LACSD is proud of our local staff and water professionals throughout the state for making a difference in their community.

If you see LACSD workers out and about this week, be sure you say "thank you" for ensuring your water and wastewater services are reliably available to you 24 hours a day.
